Indian Champissage™

What is Indian Champissage?

Indian Head Massage (Champissage™) includes massage of the shoulders, upper arms, neck, scalp, face, ears and energy balancing. This method is the brainchild of Narendra Mehta. It is based on the traditional form of Champi (head massage) practised in India for over 1,000 years.

It is a wonderfully relaxing therapy. The massage is safe, simple to learn and very effective to give, without the need to undress or use oils. It can provide relief from aches and pains, stress symptoms, insomnia, promote hair growth, soothe, comfort and rebalance your energy flow which gives you a deep sense of peace, calm and tranquillity.

Narendra Mehta MBE

The late Narendra Mehta, having been totally blind since the age of one, developed a highly sensitive power of touch. He had over 25 years experience in bodywork and studied various hands-on therapies.

In 1978, he went to India to research "head massage" and subsequently developed his own unique therapy of Indian Head Massage (Champissage™), based on the traditional form of Champi and his own experience as a practicing therapist. He worked for over 10 years as a physical therapist and as a manipulative therapist and ran Indian Head Massage (now known as Indian Champissage™) courses for several years from the London Centre of Indian Champissage™. Narendra's wife (Kundan) and his godson (Moses) still continue to offer courses at the Centre.

Alison Inglis of Indian Champissage™ Scotland has been personally trained by Narendra as a tutor of this wonderful and unique approach to Indian Head Massage.

Introductory Workshop in Indian Champissage™

This 1 day workshop will introduce you to some basic practical techniques in massaging the head and face using Indian Champissage™.

Certificate/Diploma in Indian Champissage™

The aim of this course is to provide a comprehensive grounding in the theoretical basis and practical application of Indian Champissage™. Students will be able to use the technique as a principle or subsidiary part of their professional practice.

The Certificate is obtained by attending a 3 day course. The Diploma is structured over 4 days involving 3 days tuition and an exam day. In order to qualify you need to carry out a number of case studies before taking the exam. Once qualified, you can subscribe to the L.C.I.C. Register. It is distributed to all those looking for qualified therapists, and appears on the L.C.I.C. website (www.indianchampissage.com).

About Your Tutor

Alison Inglis BA MSc Dip LCIC

Alison is an accredited tutor of the London Centre of Indian Champissage and was personally trained by Narendra Mehta as an Indian Champissage Therapist and Tutor. She is the only LCIC accredited tutor in Scotland and the North of England.

Alison is a fully qualified teacher, has been a lecturer for over 20 years, and specialises in management and teacher training. She believes that learning should focus on the learner and be informal, relaxing and fun! Over the years, many of her students have commented on her natural gift for teaching and her friendly and inspiring approach.

She has lived in Balquhidder, a place she calls 'heaven on earth', since 1993 and is a practising Buddhist.

'Thoroughly enjoyed course content – intense but not too much. Tutor was warm, inviting, knowledgeable with a lovely touch and generous nature. Venue was good – perfect surroundings, nice vibes.....'

Karen, Fife

'Excellent course, really enjoyed the tuition and group participation'

Steve, Lancashire

Location

Dunollie Cottage, Balquhidder

All courses will take place at Alison's home in beautiful Balquhidder Glen, Perthshire where she has established a training studio.

Dunollie is an ideal place to learn this wonderful therapy. It is a traditional, detached character cottage dating from the turn of the century. It occupies a magnificent, tranquil location on the edge of the Trossachs and is situated on the scenic road from Callander to Balquhidder with panoramic views over Balquhidder Glen to Loch Voil, the River Balvaig and the Hills of Strathyre.

Balquhidder itself lies in a area of exceptional beauty with lochs, natural woodland and spectacular mountain scenery. It is within easy reach of the Central belt of Scotland with Dunollie lying only 2 miles west of the A84 trunk road linking Stirling to both Edinburgh and Glasgow.

The village has many historical connections, being the burial place of Rob Roy McGregor and the area from which Robert the Bruce lead his armies to the Battle of Bannockburn. In addition, the literary works of Tannahill, Sir Walter Scott and Dorothy Wordsworth have all orginated from the Glen of Balquhidder.

Distances: Balquhidder 1 mile; Lochearnhead 3 miles; Callander or Killin 10 miles (20 mins by car); Stirling 28 miles (40 mins by car); Glasgow 57 miles (70 mins by car); Edinburgh 63 miles (80 mins by car)

Accommodation: Should you wish to stay over then we would be happy to provide you with details of some lovely local hotels or bed and breakfast establishments.

Directions to Dunollie

Dunollie is quite easy to find. Coming from Central Scotland (ie Edinburgh/Glasgow area) take the M9 heading towards Stirling. At Junction 10, take the A84 to Callander, Lochearnhead and Crianlarich. Following the A84, you'll pass through Doune, Callander and along the banks of Loch Lubnaig to Strathyre.

Approximately 2 miles past Strathyre, you'll find a junction for Balquhidder, marked by a signpost on the left-hand side of the road "Kingshouse, Balquhidder". Turn right at this sign and you'll find the Kingshouse Hotel, a white building, on the left-hand side. Drive under the by-pass, following the sign for Balquhidder and, approximately 1 mile along, you'll find Dunollie situated on the right-hand side of the road. It's a large white cottage with green paintwork and "Dunollie Cottage" on a plaque above the door. Just opposite, on the left-hand side, you'll see another cottage called "The Steading".
